

LEARNING ENGLISH AT HOME/DISTANCE LEARNING

Do you have problems that preclude you from attending school on a regular basis?

Do you have problem finding a babysitter?

Has your work schedule changed and you have to work overnight?

Did your car break down?

Don't Worry!

We have a special program just for You !

Adult English Language Learners in Collier County who have difficulty attending school on a regular basis now have a new program called Distance Learning specifically designed for them. Currently the program is offered at PRHS and BCHS. It will be extended to LHS and GGHS next school year 2008-2009.

Registered students are able to check out instructional materials and other resources to assist them in their home study away from the classroom. Participating students find it a convenient way to further their education when work schedule, lack of child care, transportation and other personal problems keep them from attending live classes.

REQUIREMENTS

Participating students need to:

- Check in twice a month.
- Review their work with a teacher in the Multi-Level Instruction Lab.
- Receive more assignments.

LEARNING RESOURCES

Teachers in the distance learning program use a variety of educational materials such as

- Internet resources: www.cdlponline.org and www.myefa.org
- Crossroads Café videos and workbooks
- Books and CDs
- ELLIS Online

These materials provide support to participating students. Teachers are available to respond to students' questions and to keep in contact with students via e-mail and phone.

Where? Multi Level Instruction Lab

When? Monday - Thursday from 5:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Of course, students learn faster and better when they are in class, but this is one more service that we offer to those students who would like to learn English but can't attend regularly. Students can register at any time and proceed at their own pace.

Distance Learning and Traditional Class

It is also possible for students to enroll in both Distance Learning and Traditional Program at the same time in order to accelerate their learning. Participating students receive the same attention as students enrolled in Distance Learning only.
